"Too late now," said he pegging away for the king row. "You should study your moves first." THE STATION-HOUSE SQUABBLE.

The Commissioners Submit Their Reply to the President.

The District Commissioners vesterday transmitted to the President the following letter in reference to the erection of a stationhouse on the same square with the High School building: Siz: The Commissioners have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a communication of William Beary Browne, chairman of a committee of ex-trus ters of the public schools of the District of Columbia, protesting against the crection of a police stationare on square 416, referred to them by your direction, with the request indorsed thereon "that a market-house or police station be not crected so close to a public school building as is proposed." In reply the Commissioners beg leave to state that they have never contemplated the erection of a market-house on said square. On the contrary, they have more than once in their annual reports recommended to Congress the appropriation of slippery tableau. this property, originally purchased for a market, to the uses of the public schools of this District; and during the last session of Congress they aided in procuring the passage of the act providing for the removal of the market sheds which have for several years occupied the same. The market in course of erection on the square opposite to 446 is strictly a private enterprise, over which the Commissioners have no control. In regard to the proposed crection of a police station on this square, the Commissioners respectfully submit the following statement:

Congress at its last session provided for the erection of two police station-houses, but inadvertently omitted to provide for the purchase of sites for the same. The First Comptroller having ruled that without such special provision the Commissioners were not authorized to purchase sites, the alternative was presented of delaying the erection of these much-needed stations until further authority could be obtained from Congress or of using such suitable sites as the District already owned; and, anticipating no objection to the use of a portion of this square for the purpose, they were considering the propriety of doing so when the protest of the ex-trustees was received.

The Commissioners then concluded to refer this protest to the Board of School Trustees, their proper advisers in the premises, and were awaiting the action of the board at the very time when the President was called on by the committee of extrustees.

The Commissioners will of course take pleasure In complying with the request of the President. In conclusion, they take occasion now to deny emphatically the gratuitous charge made against them by the ex-trustees of hostility to the public schools of this District as entirely unjust and unfounded. On the contrary, they claim that in no like period of their history has so much been done to promote the efficiency and to increase and improve the accommodations of these schools as during the three years of their administration. The Commissioners further deny the statement made by the ex-trustees that the part of square 446 on which it was contemplated to erect a station-house was ever intended to be used as a play-ground for the schools. On the contrary, they have personal knowledge that the Seventh street front of said square, being valuable business property, was specially reserved by Congress to be sold for the crection of other school-houses.

The Truth of History. To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN:

The author of "The Seven Days," in referring to the battle of Golding's farm, Virginia, June 28, 1862, says that certain Georgia regiments were repulsed by the Twenty-third New York and Forty-ninth Pennsylvania Volunteers. The paragraph from which he apparently gets his information is erroneous, and is found on page 116, volume II, of "The Southern Rebellion," by W. A. Crafts, published by Samuel Walker & Co., of Boston, in phonshed by Samuer Walker & Co., of Boston, in 1867. The troops engaged during the whole of the 28th day of June, 1862, on Golding's farm, were composed of the Seventh Maine, Thirty-third New York, Seventy-seventh New York, and Forty-ninth Pennsylvania Volunteers, Mott's Battery, and two Gatling guns, the guns from Fort Garnet having been removed at daylight on the morning of the 28th, and these troops were not on picket, as pub-lished, but formed the extreme rear guard of the Army of the Potomac and the right of line of General (Baldy) Smith's division of Franklin's corps. The Twenty-third New York Volunteers did not belong to this brigade (Davidson's), and were not in this engagement. J. WEED COREY, in this engagement. Thirty-third New York Volunteers.

THE VIRGINIA CONTEST. What Republicans Prefer in the Coming

Struggle in the Old Dominion. To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN. The contest in Virginia is between the Bourbons and Readjusters. No other party has any prospect of success. The Bourbons, outside of their own party, rely mainly for support on the office-holding Republicans. The Readjusters will The object of the Bourbons is to withhold rom the negro as far as practicable the rights he has acquired since the war, and to carry out gen-erally such ideas as the term "Bourbon" implies. The object of their allies, the office-holding Republicans, is to hold on to their offices. They know that the success of the Readjuster party will result in practically restoring the right of suffrage to 30,000 negroes, cause Republicans to be repected in the courts and at the ballot-box, and protect them in the enjoyment of all their civil and political rights; but a Readjuster triumph will bring thousands of recruits into the Republican came, some of whom may supplant a number of the present Government officials; and what

PROFIT THE OFFICE-HOLDERS f their party gained control of the State and they lost the offices? Mr. Nasby said that one might as well talk to a toper about whisky punch without whisky as to talk to a Democrat about principles without offices. The straight-out Republicans of Virginia remind one of the Democracy in this respect. General Wickham, in his late interview with the President, intimated that apprehensions of removal from office had caused trembling among the "straight-outs." Very probable. But the Re-publicans prefer the triumph of the party which will secure them in the enjoyment of valuable rights to the accommodation of office-holders. The Virginia Republicans have only to look around to be convinced that policy and principle alike point to the Readjuster party as the one which should eccive their support in the present important con-est. The men who denounce Republicans are, with few exceptions, the men who

DENOUNCE THE LIBERAL MOVEMENT. They who charge that Readjusters are dishonest have repeatedly bestowed the same compliment on Republicans: and though a few Republicans are now patted and caressed, called "honest," and occasionally styled "high-toned," it is only to enourage them to work in Bourbon traces. Repub-icans whom Virginia Bourbons style "hightoned" are good men not to follow. I noticed in the Star recently it is apprehended that the apreaching Democratic convention will take quivocal ground on the State debt question. Is it ossible that Virginia Democrats can equivocate? the apprehension be well founded, then Wickham and his Spartan band will be the only organization left which unequivocally promises o pay the State debt. What a grand moral specthis party will present to the country and the world! If their promises to pay satisfy the de-mands of the bond-holders, said bond-holders are more indulgent creditors than any I have ever had the fortune to meet. If any of the present genera-tion live to see the promises of this party redeemed he will attain an age which will far exceed that reached by Methuselah. I notice also that Wickham is strongly recommended to the Bourbons for Governor. On the principle that "one good turn deserves another," I regard this recommendation strikingly appropriate

THE BOURBON ALLIES will learn to their dismay that Virginia Republicans theroughly understand the situation; that they will not be led astray by a name; that they will not be led astray by a name; that they will not follow a banner into the enemies' camp merely because it bears the inscription, "Straightout Republicans;" but that they will zealously work for the Cameron ticket till the sun goes down on election day. I observe that Dr. D. M. Norton is among the distinguished gentlemen who will call on the President in behalf of the Readjusters. The doctor is a leader of the Republican party in Virginia; was formerly a distinguished member of the State senate, and is very influential on the Yorktown peninsula. He is able and eloquent on

A Sweet Inquiry. To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN: What is the matter with the sugar we get nowadays? When I was a youngster sugar was sweet, and I used to get sweetened with a slipper occasionally for hooking it. But the sugar we get now has no more temptation for the average boy in search of sweetening than a barrel of vinegar. What's the matter, Mr. Editor? Come, now! We pay you for knowing things for us, and if you don't do your duty there'll be one more INQUIRER.

I respectfully call your attention to TURCK'S DIA-MOND INDESTRUCTIBLE DRAFTING INK. This Ink has the following advantages over all other draft-ing Inks heretofore used: I. It produces a clean, even line, and does not "wash off," thus enabling the draughtsman to color his mechanical drawings without danger of the lines "run-2. It being ready for immediate use, it obviates the tedious work of "rubbing up" ink, thus saying much time and labor.

3. Being composed of indestructible material of a dense, black color, which makes a durable drawing and a perfect photographic copy.

4. The Ink containing no acid or alkali, prevents any danger of destruction to drawing litensils or paper.

I refer you to the U.S. Patent Office, General Land Office, Interior Department, Architect's Office, Treasury Department, and all other Departments of the U.S. Government. Very respectfully. time and labor. G. A. WHITAKER,
